Why dermatology should be a priority for STPs and patients
Why should dermatology be a priority for STPs and healthcare professionals? What is the size of the problem and its impact on primary and secondary care sector? We will consider how we can move to more 'joined up' thinking, and how we can harness the technological revolution. What are the future opportunities in this brave new world?

Integrated Care Developments in Dermatology
Current/future innovations in dermatology (overview of exciting developments in dermatology that are changing outcomes for patients/improving care pathways/supporting efficiencies)

GP-led triage services – the Rushcliffe Community Dermatology Service
Dr Patel has been running a community dermatology service for over 15 years. The service was expanded in December 2017 to include:

- Triage of all referrals to dermatology (excluding 2WW SCC and Melanoma)
- Outcome of the triage is either advice and guidance back to the GP, patient seen in a community dermatology clinic by GPwSI or a referral on to secondary care
- Triage of all BCC referrals - patients are seen first in community clinic.

He will illustrate how the service is organised, review costs, present patient feedback, and consider how the service might be improved going forward.
