

Regional Mental Health Transformation and Sustainability Networks

Since 2011, Wilmington Healthcare has successfully held 54 Regional Mental Health Commissioning Network meetings across England, showcasing best practice and sharing the challenges encountered in the commissioning of Mental Health services.

With an increasing focus on STPs as the future for innovation and change, the name of the networks will be updated to reflect this. With effect from September 2017, all networks will now be known as Regional Mental Health Transformation and Sustainability Networks.

The aims, objectives and structure of the series will remain the same, with the only noticeable difference being the introduction of STP regional seating plans to further aid local discussion and outputs.

We hope you are supportive of our decision and look forward to seeing you at your next regional meeting.
